Foundation for PC 969b Packets

PC 969b – When trying to prove a defendant has a prior conviction and was sentenced to jail or prison time...“the records or copies of records of any state penitentiary, reformatory, county jail, city jail, or federal penitentiary in which such person has been imprisoned, when such records or copies thereof have been certified by the official custodian of such records, may be introduced as such evidence.”

So PC 969b is a rule of evidence by itself. It allows for the 969b packet to be introduced into evidence. “The statute thus creates an exception to the hearsay rule.” People v. Taulton (2005) 129 Cal.App.4th 1218.

A single certification is sufficient. Each page of the 969b package does not have to be individually certified. People v. Brucker (1983) 148 Cal. App. 3d 230.

Evidence Code 1452 & 1453 – Since the 969b packet contains an “official seal” and “domestic official signature”, the seal and the custodian’s signature on the 969b packet is presumed genuine. The prosecution doesn’t have to call a witness to the stand to testify about the authenticity of the seal and signature. That means the seal and signature portions of the 969b packet are “self-authenticating”.

Evidence Code 1530 & 1531 – A copy of an original writing from a public entity (such as the 969b packet which is a copy of records from CDCR or FSO) is presumed to be an actual copy of the original document if the packet is certified.

Evidence Code 1530 & 1531 along with Evidence Code 1452 & 1453 mean the entire 969b packet is “self-authenticating”.

Evidence Code 1280 – Records by public employees are not made inadmissible by the hearsay rule. EC 1280 should be considered as an alternative exception to the hearsay rule, after the much simpler PC 969b and People v. Taulton exception.

People v. Fielder (2004) 114 Cal.App.4th 1221. – This case has a good general discussion about prison prior “washout”.

Violation Allegation(s)

Failed to appear for office appointments: on 12/17/13, per your officer's directives at last office appointment on 11/7/13.

Failed to report change of address to Probation within 7 days: On 12/18/13, Probation attempted to make contact with the defendant at his reported address on 2829 W Ashlan Ave Apt 113, Fresno, CA 93705 but was unsuccessful. Your officer spoke with the apartment manager and confirmed the defendant moved out on 12/9/13, for non-payment of rent. On 1/7/14, the defendant indicated to Probation he was now living at 3450 W University Ave, Fresno, CA 93722 and did not report his change of address because he was going through some family issues.

Failed to refrain from using and possessing marijuana: On 1/7/14, your officer contacted the defendant on College/Andrews Street in the City of Fresno. He was detained and during a search of his person, your officer found a baggie of marijuana in his left pants pocket. When asked when he last used any alcohol or narcotics, the defendant admitted to using marijuana 10 minutes prior to our contact. The defendant was then arrested, read his Miranda Rights, and transported to the Fresno County Jail without incident. On 1/9/14, a remand to custody was submitted to the Court and the matter was placed on calendar for a VOP Arraignment Hearing for 1/10/14.

Custody: IC Arrested: 1/7/14 Booking #: [REDACTED] VOP Hold: Remand on 1/9/14

Prior VOP(s): On 8/1/11, the defendant admitted to his 1st VOP for being out of contact and positive drug test. Probation was revoked and reinstated, he was sentenced to 304 days in custody with credit for time served, and released on probation.

On 6/17/13, the defendant admitted to his 2nd VOP in light of the plea in Conditional case M13920469. Probation was revoked and reinstated, probation was extended for an additional two years until 8/24/15, he was sentenced to 317 days in custody with credit for time served, and released on probation.

Negative drug test(s): 7/12/13, 7/26/13, 8/9/13, 8/23/13, 9/6/13, 9/20/13, 10/4/13, 10/18/13, 11/1/13, and 11/15/13.

Conclusion: The defendant is before the Court relevant to his 3rd VOP for the above violations. It appears when he has family issues he absconds from supervision and relapses, either by using alcohol or narcotics. A couple of violations into his probation, your officer has some serious reservations about reinstatement based upon his overall non-compliance; however, in considering his youthful age and the fact that he has not exhausted all local resources, your officer believes he can still benefit from further probation services. At this time, your officer will recommend the defendant waive his time credits for local purposes, serve time in local custody, and be enrolled in the Adult Day Reporting Center to address his needs. The defendant should be admonished if he fails to comply again, the next recommendation could be local prison.
