Good morning Jordan -

Yes, pursuant to the email I sent out a few weeks ago - the protocol is to alert me when a discovery motion is sent to us. Chris now has two of these and Max was just served with one. Chris has already successfully litigated one of these.

Please confer with Chris and keep this chain posted on the developments in the case. I am tracking these motions office wide.

Thank you,

Venus

Bringing this to your attention, as I've been told you are tracking these types of requests. I will speak to my colleagues on how to respond (as I understand you/the office may have already provided such guidance).

Mr. Sanders:

Please review the attached document as an informal request for discovery.

A case of first impression for me.
